

INVESTORS ROUNDTABLE

The food on our plate: How Farmland provides sustainable opportunities for income

Co-hosted by Nuveen

Date: Tuesday 27th April 2021
Time: 10:30am – 11:30am

We are delighted to invite you to join Nuveen and Pensions for Purpose for this virtual morning coffee discussion and farm-to-table roundtable presentation.

Why sustainability matters!

As the world's largest investor in global farmland assets¹ we will be sharing our experience of investing for income in these volatile times.

Strong demand for food has been driven by population growth, changing diets, and rising incomes.

Join Westchester's Head of Portfolio Management, Skye Macpherson, for an introduction into how farmland investments, through innovation and improved productivity, can help to meet global demand for food and produce sustainable income for institutional investors over the long term.

Founder of Pensions for Purpose, Karen Shackleton, will introduce the session prior to passing over to Skye for a brief presentation. The presentation will be followed by a 30-minute discussion amongst attendees allowing for questions and reflections.

Places are limited, so please RSVP early.

E-mail Alex Noble at Pensions for Purpose to confirm your attendance.

So that we can deliver your basket in advance, please include your delivery address with your RSVP.

A calendar placeholder will be sent to you on registration and a Zoom link will be circulated 24 hours ahead of the event.

¹ As an asset class, agricultural investments are less developed, more illiquid, and less transparent compared to traditional asset classes. Agricultural investments will be subject to risks generally associated with the ownership of real estate-related assets, including changes in economic conditions, environmental risks, the cost of and ability to obtain insurance, and risks related to leasing of properties.
